The House met at 10:00 o'clock A. M.

The SPEAKER (Charles A. Ambler) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. F. W. Staley, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, we thank Thee for the exalted blessings we enjoy; the blessings of nature, its abundance, its gifts, their adaption to our various needs, light for the eye, sound for the ear, air for the lungs, water to quench the thirst, food for the body, refreshing rains and pure sunlight—no wonder the Psalmist exclaimed, "Let everything that hath breath praise the name of the Lord."

We thank Thee for the blessings of health, for home, for the position we occupy in the community in which we live, in the State as builders, may we build nobly and well for the generation following. We thank Thee for the blessing of the Kingdom of God, an everlasting kingdom, a kingdom into which each man must be born—"Except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God." We thank Thee for all these blessings and may we appreciate them. We ask for Christ's sake. Amen.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with the information that the House has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1543 (Senate Bill No. 286), entitled:

An Act to provide for retirement of State employes permanently disqualified by reason of physical or mental disability to perform their official functions and duties with half pay under certain conditions during the remainder of their lives except State employes whose retirement has been or shall be otherwise provided for and the filling of vacancies caused by such retirement

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SHAFFER. Mr. Speaker. I would like to have some information on this bill, if there is anybody in the House that can explain it.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr Speaker, perhaps I can comply with the request of the gentleman from Columbia. This bill is designed to provide for the retirement of State employes who have been in continuous service for not less than twenty years, and it applies, if passed now, to only seventeen State employes. In addition to that it is left entirely to the Governor to O. K. the application for retirement, and is not mandatory in any sense of the word.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to add that there is to-day employed here, and has been for over twenty years, one employe that is almost blind. and that is probably the reason why this thought is presented to the House. I think we can well afford to pass the bill.

Section 2 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LIPSCHUTZ. Mr. Speaker, to my mind, this is a very obnoxious bill. This bill attempts to give a bank preference over other creditors. In other words, when money is deposited in a bank and that bank receives a promissory note, before the maturity of the note, if this law goes into force and effect it makes the bank a preferred creditor over other creditors, and the bank can take that money that is deposited there and use it for the purpose of satisfying all indebtedness of this nature. In other words, you are creating a preference creditor of the bank and this would make an act of bankruptcy. The policy of the law is that all creditors shall come in equally. Now for instance the presumption is that the money so deposited in bank has been money that the debtor obtained by reason of credits extended to him by other concerns—in other words, sales of goods have been reduced to cash and that cash deposited in bank. There is no evidence of preference over other creditors; there is no reason in the law why they should have preference. They have taken a chance, the promissory note is evidence of it, and they should come in equal accord of law with other creditors.

MOTION TO POSTPONE.

Mr. WILDMAN. Mr. Speaker, I move that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was not agreed to.

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER declared the noes appear to have it.

PLEDGING SUPPORT TO PRESIDENT WILSON.

Mr. BALDWIN offered the following resolution, which was twice read:

To the President of the United States.

The General Assembly of the State of Pennsylvania sends you this expression of encouragement and approval of the honorable and statesmanlike manner in which you have administered the affairs of the Republic during the months in which Europe has been engulfed in the most terrible war of history.

Your efforts during these hours of grave peril, to steer the Ship of State, with due regard to both safety and honor, command the respect and admiration of the American people.

For the German people of every land we have the greatest regard, respect and admiration. This crime is not theirs nor of their making, and the world does not nor will not hold them accountable. This is the crime of their War Lords. Civilization demands that non-combatants, either on land or on the high seas, as provided under the universal law of nations, shall be protected and their rights respected.

Therefore be it resolved, That this General Assembly pledge to your, our President, the confidence, support and allegiance of the people of Pennsylvania, regardless of race, creed or political affiliations, and should the hour come, when in your opinion, through divine guidance, American life, property and honor, demand that force should be used, we pledge you our manhood, and all the physical and moral force of our beloved State.

The Chief Clerk of the House is hereby directed to forward a copy of this resolution to the President of the United States.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the resolution?

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I move this resolution lie over for the present in view of the fact that negotiations between this country and Germany have not yet been concluded and no policy having as yet been formulated, and in view of the further fact that we have in this House, at the present time, less than a quorum and as it seems to me an important matter to pledge the lower House to, I make that motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, if it is the wish of the House that the resolution lie over for printing, I have no objection, but I believe that if the House knew fully that this resolution is simply an endorsement of the President of the United States as to the course that he is pursuing in this difficulty and as it simply says to him that the action has the endorsement of the State of Pennsylvania, that as a Republican State we will, if the time comes, in his judgment, that force must be used, sustain him, and the resolution further provides to clear up in the public mind the idea that the American citizens hold no feeling towards the German people as a people. It is very important, in my judgment, that we should endorse this proposition. It will clarify, in the public mind, the impression that the American people hold a feeling toward the German people, as a people, which is not a fact. We have the highest respect and highest regard for them as a people. Therefore, we want the world to know that whatever differences there may be arising from this great struggle and conflict that is going on, that we don't hold it against the people themselves. We hold it against the public officials who make the errors. However, if it is the wish of the House to have it postponed, I have no objection, but I think we could consider it now and have it forwarded to the President and know that the people of Pennsylvania stand by him irrespective of race, creed or political affiliation in these hours of need.

On the question,

Will the House give unanimous consent to the consideration of this resolution at this time?

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection.

Ordered, That the resolution lie over for printing.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER SENATE BILL NO. 1552.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 1552, (House Bill No. 1364), the bill just read, be recommitted to the Committee on Municipal Affairs.

Mr. MAGEE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President, I object to that bill being recommitted to any committee. It is a bill that we are all familiar with. It has been in the Committee on Municipal Affairs, an identical bill was, and then amended and passed the House.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, this bill was not in Committee on Municipal Affairs, and in order to expedite this bill it was placed on the calendar in the shape in which it now is in a spirit of fairness to the bill. It was referred to the Committee on Elections, and we reported it out yesterday in order that it might be considered the first time. A similar bill, introduced by Senator Clark, was in Committee on Municipal Affairs where certain amendments were considered, and it was reported out with amendments, and this is simply for the purpose of getting it back to the Committee on Municipal Affairs, where the bill, similar to this one, was considered, and the Committee had certain ideas about the way it should be amended. This is not for the purpose of endeavoring to kill the bill, but for the purpose of giving it a fair hearing in committee and letting it come out again in the Senate. I was one of the persons who was instrumetnal in getting the bill on the calendar where it now is, and if it had not been that this bill was reported from the Committee on Elections yesterday, it would not have had a chance of being enacted this session.

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President, this bill was committed to the Committee on Elections, and I suppose they must have had a very fair hearing on it in that Committee, otherwise it would not have been reported out. It had been before that Committee, and why it was sent to the Committee on Elections I do not know, but it was sent to the Committee on Elections and reported out. It is now on its second reading, and I object to its going to another committee.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, it was sent to the Committee on Elections for the reason that the Chairman of the Committee on Municipal Affairs had gone home when this bill was sent over from the House yesterday, and it was sent to the Committee on Elections for the purpose of enabling it to be reported yesterday so that it could be read the first time.

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President, this bill was originally introduced in the Senate months ago; went to the Committee on Municipal Affairs of this Senate and was amended there. It came out upon the floor of the Senate and was killed 38 to 1. This is the identical bill that has been amended in the Committee on Municipal Affairs, and I object to its going there again.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, I withdraw the motion at present.

Mr. MAGEE. Mr. President, I agree to the withdrawal of the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. LYNCH. Mr. President, I move to amend the section in line 74, by adding after the word "term" the words. "Upon the expiration of the term of office of any poor director now in office or first authorized under the provisions of this act and thereafter the poor directors from Lackawanna County shall be appointed by the president judge of the court of common pleas of Lackawanna County and the poor directors from Luzerne County shall be appointed by the president judge of the court of common pleas of Luzerne County."

Whereas Mary Hays accompanied her husband to the war and nursed and carried water in a pitcher to the soliders on many a battlefield for which many acts of kindness and heroism she was given the name of "Molly Pitcher" and

Whereas At the battle of Monmouth June twenty-eighth one thousand seven hundred and seventy-eight John Hays was shot down at the mouth of his cannon and before the command could be obeyed "to the rear with the unmanned gun" Molly Pitcher took the place of her husband and served in his place for eight hours rallied the troops and assisted in winning the battle for which heroic action she was called before Washington and breveted sergeant the French calling her El Capitan or Captain Molly and

Whereas Mary Hays returned to Carlisle with her husband and after the death of her husband John Hays she married —— McCauley after whose death the Legislature of Pennsylvania granted her a pension of forty dollars a year "for services rendered in the Revolutionary War" indexed "Molly McKolly Revolutionary Heroine" (the only woman so indexed in the archives of Pennsylvania) the vouchers for this pension she signed by making her mark in some of which she spells her name McKolly and some McCauley and

Whereas The citizens of Carlisle erected an humble monument to mark her grave in the old graveyard at Carlisle and the State of Pennsylvania has never erected a proper monument to the only woman cannoneer of the Revolutionary War therefore

Whereas The Act of Assembly approved the thirty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven relating to the State Highway Department provides that upon the failure of any county or counties township or townships borough or boroughs or incorporated town or towns to pay to the State Treasurer the amount due the Commonwealth therefrom on account of their share of the cost of improvement and maintenance of State aid highways in such county township borough or incorporated town within thirty (30) days after said cost has been certified to the proper authorities as provided for in said act then the said shares of such county township borough or incorporated town shall be charged by the State Treasurer against any funds of such county township borough or incorporated town which may be in the hands of the State Treasurer or which may thereafter come into his hands excepting school funds and

Whereas Said provision has been construed by the State Treasurer to authorize and direct him to deduct from any amounts that may be due the respective county from the Commonwealth any sums that may be due the Commonwealth from such townships boroughs or incorporated towns within such county on account of State aid highway improvement and maintenance and

Whereas An action is now pending in the court of common pleas of Dauphin County to determine the authority of the State Treasurer to make such deductions

MOTION TO RECOMMIT SENATE BILL NO. 1552.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 1552 (House Bill No. 1364), on third reading, entitled:

An Act to amend and revise an act entitled "An Act providing for the incorporation regulation and government of cities of the third class regulating nomination and election of municipal officers therein and repealing consolidating and extending existing laws in relation thereto" approved the twenty-seventh day of June Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and thirteen enlarging changing modifying and defining certain of the powers of cities of the third class be recommitted to the Committee on Municipal Affairs, for the purpose of amendment.

Mr. McKEE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President, this is the same old trouble that we are familiar with. This bill has been duly considered; almost the identical bill was introduced in this Senate some time ago and was amended in the Committee on Municipal Affairs, and came out in the Senate and by a vote of 38 to 1 it was killed. In the House a bill, not precisely similar, but containing very nearly the same provisions, was introduced by the Chairman of the Committee on Municipal Affairs. It was duly considered, it came over here and it was referred to a Committee and it was reported out. I think this bill ought to stand or fall upon its merits.

I suppose we are not permitted to discuss on a motion to refer to committee the merits of the bill and therefore I cannot go into it, but if there are any amendments, or have been in the minds of any particular member of this Senate, or any legislation relating to cities of the third class, it seems to me that it ought to have been introduced in the bill long ago. Personally I do not favor referring this bill to the committee of which I am a member, and I will be glad if the members of this Senate, a majority of them, would feel as I do, and I shall take the liberty of asking for the yeas and nays on this vote.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, the Senator from Erie states that this is the question with which the Senate is familiar. I take exception to his remark in that regard. There was a bill similar to this, Mr. President, introduced by the Senator from Erie in the very early stages of the session, and no particular effort was made by him to secure the passage or to secure action by the Senate upon that bill until about a week or ten days ago and then it was that that bill was defeated by a vote of one to thirty-eight and, I respectfully submit, that it was defeated as a matter of courtesy to the Senator from Erie. The bill which was introduced was introduced by him and it was committed to the Committee on Municipal Affairs. It was reported out and it was referred back and the bill which was introduced by the Senator from Erie came out with a number of amendments to the bill and instead of standing on the floor of the Senate and asking the Senate to strike from his bill the amendments which had been inserted in Committee not a word was said until the roll was called, and when the roll was called and when the Senator from Erie voted no, as a matter of courtesy to him, the rest of the members of the Senate, I respectfully submit, because they did not know what was contained in the bill, voted against it. Now, Mr. President, the bill was in committee, the bill as sent from the Committee was amended and when this bill as introduced by the Senator from Erie went down to its defeat it was myself who was instrumental in encouraging the passage of the bill in the House and bringing it here that the members of this Senate might carefully consider the question affecting the third class cities and when it came over here, the Senator from Philadelphia, who happened to be Chairman of the Committee on Municipal Affairs, was not present, having gone home for the week; and in order that its progress might be advanced I asked that the bill be committed to the Committee on Elections so that it might be reported out and read the first time in order that this legislation might be properly considered by the members of the Senate, and if I had arisen in my place and waged objection that bill would have stayed in the Committee on Elections until a meeeting could have been held and the bill would have had to take its regular course in printing, and it was because unanimous consent was obtained that the Senator from Erie is able to have this bill on third reading and final passage to-night. Now, Mr. President, it is only fair that the members of this Senate should have before them for discussion this bill, as it is proposed to offer amendments. It is only fair to assume that the Committee on Municipal Affairs, having amended the bill as introduced by the Senator from Erie, Mr. Clark, and sent it on to this floor for the purpose of passage or defeat by the members of this Senate, that when this bill is introduced it is only fair that this bill should go to the Committee on Municipal Affairs for the purpose of considering its amendments, and when I made this motion last week it was only as a matter of fairness to this Senate that I did not call for a quorum, and it was for that reason that the motion has gone over until to-night, and I make this motion that this bill may go to the Committee on Municipal Affairs to be there considered by the members and if they see fit to incorporate amendments that I propose to offer there, and they can come out on the floor and the bill be put through before the session finally adjourns. I ask in fairness to this proposition that this bill be sent back because I respectfully submit that when it was defeated by a vote of one to thirty-eight it was not fairly considered by the members of the Senate. The merits of the bill were not considered, because they were not called to the attention of the Senators, but instead, as a matter of courtesy to the Senator from Erie, being the father of the bill, any member of the Senate knowing and seeing that when any Senator does not want his own bill passed, as a matter of courtesy, I respectfully submit voted against it, and when the vote was thirty-eight to one it was not the consensus of opinion of this Senate that that was the way the Senate stood upon the question, and I ask in due fairness to the league of third class cities, as well as those interested in this bill that it be sent back to the Committee on Municipal Affairs for discussion and amendment as I have asked.

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President, as to the vote of thirty-eight to one if that was done out of courtesy to the Senator from Erie, the Senator from Erie now desires to thank each one of them, and the only regret that I have is that I cannot include in that courtesy the Senator from Dauphin. I am called the father of the bill. I have no pride of parentage about this bill. It was a bill that was asked for by the league of cities of the third class and came to me for the purpose of

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, I do not care to rise to a point of order on this question. This discussion is on the motion to recommit, and I am just as willing that the Senate will forbear that the Senator from Erie shall discuss the merits of this bill if I am permitted to answer.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair would state for the benefit of the Senator from Erie that on a motion to recommit he cannot go into the merits of the bill.

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President, I am well aware of that fact, and I did not think that I was trespassing. The Senator said that I was the father of the bill, and in an explanatory way I was endeavoring to inform the Senator that I am not the father of the bill, and that was all, I am not discussing the merits of the bill. This matter can be very easily settled. I have no desire to be discourteous to any member of this Senate. If the Senate desires to vote that this shall go to the Committee on Municipal Affairs, it is their privilege, if they chose to do it, but if they do not, they have the same right the other way. I presume that I have no more interest in this bill than any other representative of cities of the third class who are here to-night. It has been a matter of some little concern to us all. I am sure that the Senator from Dauphin is to be thanked for his efforts to get this bill on the floor of the Senate. I do not see how having this bill reported immediately out of committee helped in its passage. If it were in committee it could have been amended in committee, and if it were not done in committee and it was brought out through the instrumentality of the Senator from Dauphin, then I think the Senator from Dauphin made a mistake, he should have, if he had any amendments in mind, put them in there. I do not care to take up the time of the Senate to make a statement of reasons, it is late and if it can be recommitted to the Committee on Municipal Affairs and the amendments are put into it it may fall. It is not a question of whatever the bill should be acted upon to-night or not, and I think it has been before this Senate long enough for any individual member to make up his mind what he will do.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. I only want to say in reply to what was said by the Senator from Erie, that he well knows that if this bill had gone to the Committee on Elections or Municipal Affairs for the purpose of a hearing, it could not have been reported out on the same day on which it came from the House, and he well knows, that if a hearing had been asked as a matter of courtesy, it would have been extended, but it was for the purpose of enabling the bill to come out and be read the first time on the same day that it came from the House that I did not ask that amendments be inserted in committee because I thought it was a matter of fairness to the Senator from Erie in an effort to introduce amendments to this bill that he should be able to be present and be heard.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. CLARK and Mr. PHIPPS, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—17.

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Beidleman, | Martin, | Salus, | Sproul, |

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, for the information of the Senators who are about to vote on this important measure, there have been compiled by the authorities of the Eastern Penitentiary some vital statistics, I think especially interesting before the Senators cast their votes upon this measure.

There were in 1914 in the Eastern Penitentiary a total of 2004 prisoners. Of these, 1667 received 3,774 visits from members of their families and their friends. The present single railroad fare from Philadelphia to Bellefonte is $5.77, and 37½ Per Cent. of the prisoners admitted during the year 1914 were from Philadelphia county. The single fare is $5.77, or in other words, a round trip ticket for persons from Philadelphia who desire to visit their friends who are incarcerated in the penitentiary would be on the average about $10.00. You can readily see that if a prisoner's family wished to visit him at Bellefonte, it would incur an expense which would be positively prohibitive to most of the families, and if they could afford this expense, it would take the greater part of two days to make the trip and return. So the railroad expense, plus the hotel bill, would practically make it prohibitive from any one trying to see the prisoners.

Incorporated prison socities such as the Pennsylvania Prison Society, the Episcopal City Mission, and the American Society for Viisting Catholic Prisoners, authorized by law, to visit penitentiaries, now furnish regular weekly visits to each convict with the aid of regularly appointed and duly accredited visitors from the ministers and members of the different denominations and the King's Daughters. Under the Parole Act the inmates are obliged to obtain employment before being discharged, and through all these agencies employment is secured; further, quite a number of our parole men have been employed by various large corporations, and before the men are employed by them, they must pass a physical examination, such examination is made by physicians in the employ of these corporations. You can readily see that practically all of this work would be cut off by the removal of the penitentiary from Philadelphia to Center county.

I do not desire to burden the Senate, but now we go on to take what is the different rate of maintenance as compared between the Eastern Penitentiary as now conducted and the penitentiary in the western part of the State. During the year 1914, there was deposited in the Philadelphia Savings Fund $7,000, a large part of which was the proceeds of work disposed of for the families of the prisoners. The legislative appropriation for the session of 1913 for the Eastern Penitentiary was $238.660.97, or a yearly sum of $119,330.40. The appropriation of the legislature for the session of 1913 for the Western Penitentiary at Pittsburgh was $301,935.90, or a yearly sum of $150,967.95. The per capita charge to the counties for maintenance for the Eastern Penitentiary for the year 1914 was nineteen cents. The per capita charge to the counties for maintenance for the Wetsern Penitentiary for the year 1913, was 39 cents, practically one hundred per cent. more in the western part of the state than in the eastern part. The total population in the Eastern Penitentiary for 1914 was 2004; the total population in the Western Penitentiary for 1914 was but 1,241.

Under the law the State allows a cash gratuity for each discharged convict from the City of Philadelphia, or whose residence is within fifty miles thereof, the sum of $5.00, and for each discharged convict whose residence is more than fifty miles from the City of Philadelphia, the sum of ten dollars. Under this law, all prisoners committed from Philadelphia, Delaware, Montgomery, Bucks and Chester counties, are allowed five dollars on discharge, and all prisoners committed from the other counties are allowed ten dollars on discharge. From the statement of prisoners received and discharged during the year 1914, (which is herewith enclosed) you can see the majority of the prisoners are committed from Philadelphia and the nearby counties, and are allowed only five dollars gratuity, but if the penitentiary was removed from Philadelphia to Center county these prisoners would receive ten dollars gratuity instead of five dollars, thereby imposing an additional expense on the State. It would also put an additional expense on the following counties for transportation of the prisoners, namely: Philadelphia, Delaware, Montgomery, Bucks, Chester, Lancaster, Berks, Lehigh, Northampton, York Monroe, Lebanon, Carbon, Schuylkill, Dauphin, Adams, Cumberland, Franklin, Pike and Perry, together with the inconvenience.

All the buildings have been put in a most sanitary condition, which can be attested by the Senators who have visited the institution during the present session.

And in conclusion, from the report of the members who have visited this institution as members of the Appropriations Committee, the Eastern Penitentiary to-day, as remarked by some of the gentlemen, is equivalent to a comparison between the Western Penitentiary as the Bellevue-Stratford is as compared to a dollar and fifty cents a-day hotel. Therefore, if this is the case, there has been nothing charged about its sanitary condition and nothing charged as to the irregular management of the institution. I cannot see for the life of me without knowing the facts, how this transfer is going to take place and the enormous amount this State is going to be mulcted and the enormous expense in the matter of the enormous buildings about to be constructed there, with no plans or ideas as to what is to be the form of institution as to its aspects and building accommodations. I think it is time to appoint a commission to take the matter up and investigate it thoroughly and report back to this Senate two years hence the facts and figures connected with this transaction before we change an established institution unnecessary.

Mr. CROW. Mr. President, in 1911, the Legislature created a commission that made an investigation of this proposition, and as a result of the investigation purchased a site for the new penitentiary in Centre county. The proposition was put forward as a humanitarian one and also from the standpoint of economy. In the Western Penitentiary the opportunities for occupation and open air were such that it was a breeder of disease rather than a place of punishment. For that reason this commission was created. It was given authority to purchase the land, and between that time and this has purchased more than five thousand acres of the most fertile land in Pennsylvania as a site for the new penitentiary. There the buildings are under construction; there they have ample opportunity and abundance of water power, they have an inexhaustible supply of limestone and other minerals. There they will be given the fullest opportunity for labor employment and occupation. The one thing that has disturbed the inmates of the penal institutions of the State is there inability to get employment. Idleness begets further crime. Now it was for this reason that this project was put forward. There they have ample acreage to give employment for all the prisoners of the two penitentiaries. It is a proposition bigger than that discussed by the Senator from Philadelphia. Philadelphia may, it is true, have to make some sacrifice, but Philadelphia certainly will be willing to make the sacrifice if it is in the interest of the inmates of the two penitentiaries. Out here, as I stated before, there is plenty of employment for all. I am told by those in charge of this project that instead of it being a further burden upon the State of Pennsylvania in the way of maintenance that they will be able to make this institution self-sustaining. Now, Mr. President, considering that this project was started from a purely humanitarian standpoint and one of economy, a movement to give the prisoners of the one penitentiary, and if this bill goes through the prisoners of both penitentiaries an opportunity to get out into God's sunshine, an opportunity to be employed, an opportunity to learn a trade, an opportunity to make of themselves useful citizens and I ask in the name of humanity and economy that this bill be passed.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, in relation to the remarks so far as they pertain to the matter of air, it would be the delight of every Senator in this chamber if to-morrow they could walk into the gates of the Eastern Penitentiary and observe practically 90 per cent of these men confined there engaged in trades of all kinds and descriptions, and these men engaged in these trades enjoying there just as the Senator has said God's sunshine and open air, and for the health and condition of the prisoners in the Eastern Penitentiary as compared to any other penal institution in the United States, they stand preeminently at the head of the list. Therefore this glowing tribute to the free air and humanitarian standpoint of the prisoners are such as already prevail in the grandest and greatest penal institution that there is to-day in these United States.

Mr. CROW. Mr. President, the reply to that is this: that the Eastern Penitentiary is bounded by one city block of the City of Philadelphia, and considering the number of persons therein incarcerated, according to the figures given by the Senator from Philadelphia, I submit that it would be impossible to afford the sunshine and the labor and the employment as would be furnished by the new project in Centre county.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, in answer to the gentleman from Philadelphia, I was with the members of the Appropriations Committee a few weeks ago, and I saw that wonderful sight of two or three dozen able-bodied men building brick as high as they could reach, tearing it down, scraping the mortar off, and doing it all over again. Can you put a man any place in the world, and do that kind of work, and make a better man out of him? You walk right to the next tier and you see a lot of plumbers, as the gentleman from Philadelphia has said, wiping joints. They are bossed by an A No. 1 plumber and as soon as the joints completed, they are taken out of the vise and broken across their knees and thrown into the melting pot again. That is the wonderful work that is carried on in the City of Philadelphia, and I want to contrast that very briefly with two instances I know of my own knowledge.

While visiting this new penitentiary in Centre county some months ago I ran across a man from the western part of the State who had been in penitentiaries five times, not in this State but in others, and I asked him how he liked it. He said, "This is the first time that I felt like a man in years. I get up in the morning, eat a good breakfast, and work as a free man would out in the open air, and I get a good dinner and I work all afternoon, and at night I can sleep, and every man in this instituiton is doing the same thing. We will leave here reformed men." Can you measure that in the light of dollars and cents? There was a young man from Pittsburgh about two years ago, one who is known to every single Senator from western Pennsylvania, who in a moment of weakness put his hand in the drawer and took out a few paltry dollars, because of his number of years of employment his employer went before the Court in Allegheny county, and they asked of the Court to dismiss the charge that his previous years of good service warranted, and the young man, for the first time broke down, and said, I want to go to the penitentiary. He said he had become a dope-fiend. I talked to this young man about a year ago, the Judge gave him an indeterminate sentence, and to-day he is out in a western town living his life all over again. You cannot reform a man within four square walls, and there is not a man in this Senate who will vote for this bill that will live in Philadelphia the whole year around because of the humidity in the atmosphere, not a single one, and I trust that this law will prevail, and that these men who have done this wonderful work in child labor will give these older children a chance to live in God's free air and God's free sunshine and they will leave there healthy men and healthy women.

Mr. FARLEY. Mr. President, it seems rather strange that we lay so much stress upon the fresh air proposition. We, in Philadelphia, realize what our great institution has done for the betterment of our fellow-men. It is all right for the Senators to say that you will see these men take a pipe and break the joint, but I want to say, Mr. President, and gentlemen of the Senate, that these men do more than that. When they go in there not knowing their A B C's they are taught as a child, you might say, first going to school. By this wonderful institution they are taught first their A B C's and they are taught all the way up perhaps if their term goes so long, to a grammar course. This great institution is a credit to the State of Pennsylvania, and it is not right for any man to plead here on the fresh air proposition. It is not always the fresh air, but the example and the treatment set by the men who are trying to run this institution and to give to the people of Pennsylvania the reformed prisoners. We fear none of these people after they come out of this institution after their term has expired, for we realize the fact that the man who is guiding this institution is one who has done a great deal for the uplift of mankind in this great State, and I cannot see any reason why you should take from Philadelphia this institution that has done so much for the uplift of the poor unfortunate who is in such a position as to be placed in an institution of this character, and I hope and trust that the gentlemen of this Senate will vote no on this bill, and leave us in Philadelphia the institution that we have at present.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, this looks to me like legislation by the west for the east. We have an institution as has been shown in this Senate in the east and we feel that it is run properly and on an economic basis. I was one of the Committee that visited this institution recently, and I want to say to this Senate that I was never in an institution of this knid where there seemed to be more happiness, harmony and co-operation between the inmates, and their Superintendent and officials than we found in this institution. These men were palying baseball. They were going about their particular tasks, if it was the work hour, they were going to school, and there was none of that dreariness which we find in other institutions of this sort. Why, Mr. President, a few weeks ago we voted upon a bill which will provide for the employment of prisoners whereby they may follow various occupations and learn trades and receive compensation therefor, and that bill is now in the hands of the Governor for his approval. And there is also another bill which went along with that one, making an appropriation for the installation of machinery and the buying of raw material for just this sort of thing. Why do they want to take this institution away from us in the east? They talk about the open air and sunshine and all that sort of thing, I do no know that I am opposed to that, but if we are to have an Eastern Penitentiary, if we are to send our prisoners to penitentiaries, let us provide a place out in the country. We have plenty of places in the east, and do not take them away from us and send them away out in the mountains, where their friends would have to change cars two or three times to get to them at great expense, and after they got there, they would probably have to sleep in a haystack all night. Mr. President, let me ask this? Where does the agitation for this consolidation come from? Does it come from those in the East who are directly affected, or does it come from the West? I rather think, Mr. President, that there is some one at work here who is trying to build for himself a monument by combining these two institutions. I ask that the Senators and members of the Western centre consider those of us who come from the East that will be affected directly by this bill, but only in the treatment of our prisoners, but in the costs and expenses connected therewith, and the other details which are worked out when the prisoners are discharged or placed under parole.

Mr. PATTON. Mr. President, It seems to me that if the people in the western part of the State of Pennsylvania want to try the experiment of putting prisoners to work out in the open air and all that sort of thing, that it is wise that they should do so in their own way and in their own time, but why they should come to us with a record of spending three hundred and fifty thousand dollars where we spent two hundred and thirty-eight thousand dollars for keeping about one-half as many people, and where their per capita cost is thirty-nine cents, the cost in the Eastern Penitentiary is but nineteen cents. Don't you think that it is fair and right that we should have an opportunity in Philadelphia of keeping our institution until you can show us that you can do better with your own prisoners out there? I feel that we ought not to be interfered with in our institution, which under the present administration has become not a penal institution but a reformatory. It has turned out more good men from bad ones than any institution of its kind, I guess, in the world, and while that good work is going on in Philadelphia, why do you interfere with it? Why are you going to close it and put it in conjunction with another institution which has not been one-half as well managed, it seems to me but fair and right that the people of Philadelphia should be left to attend to their own business and the people of this part of the State should have an opportunity to keep the institution which has been so well run, and so perfectly satisfactory to the State.

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President, I am not displeased that a deliberative body is now deliberating. It is a little unusual, but nevertheless, I think, profitable. I have often stood in the streets of Philadelphia and looked upon that large monument at the top of the City Hall, the Apostle of Peace. I have walked around that building and looked at the bronze tablet on another monument upon which is inscribed in effect and in words "There is a time for everything, now is the time to fight." I have often wondered if the Senators from Philadelphia do not gather around that tablet and gain inspiration from it before they come up to the Legislature, because they are good fighters and unusually get what they want. This time, it may be different. The question has been propounded here in this Senate, where does this legislation come from. The question has been asked, or it has been suggested, that someone has been trying to build up a great monument for himself, a most worthy project. If there is any person endeavoring to do anything of this kind he deserves to be commended rather than condemned. I have learned that they are taught A B C's down in that great penitentiary. There are other places in the Commonwealth where people can by a little patience and perhaps a little instruction be taught the A B C's just as effectively. I may be mistaken in that. I have understood that they even play ball down there in Philadelphia's great penitentiary. I should think, however, from what I read in the papers that there are other places in the Commonwealth where they also play ball. It does not seem to me that these arguments are arguments that are worthy of serious consideration. I have visited both of these institutions. I have visited the one in Allegheny and the one in Philadelphia. I was present when these members who have spoken to-night were there. I was pleased with the way in which that institution was kept, but admitting that it is most splendidly equipped; admitting that it is splendidly conducted; admitting that at the head of that institution is one of the greatest criminologists of the age, admitting all this, that is no reason why this institution should forever remain there, and remain there, I think, for the purpose of retaining the criminologist at the head of it. I presume there would be work enough for two or three criminologists, even a commission to conduct a great institution such as the one it is proposed to locate in Center county. If I remember correctly, when this matter was before this Senate, it was then suggested that it might be placed where the penitentiaries could be combined and the administrative expense thereby lessened not only that, but a great many acres of land could be purchased and the prisoners make that institution self-sustaining. These were the arguments as I recall them without going to the records that impressed me at the time, and I do not see why that cannot be done now. It is the economy of the consolidation that appeals to me. I do not think that this legislation comes from any one section, but it comes from the Commonwealth to the representatives here to-night from their various districts, from a desire to accomplish that which in their judgment would be for the best interests of the Commonwealth, and for the best interests of the inmates. On the ground therefor of efficiency, and on the ground of economy and on the ground of humanity, I am in favor of combining these two institutions.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Erie.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Erie, Mr. Clark, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I desire to ask the Senator from Erie what he would do with the visiting friends of the convicts provided that there were no substantial financial capacity in their families to visit the prisoners who are incarcerated in the new Western Penitentiary in Centre county.

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President, I am asked why I believe that the conduct of the consolidated penitentiary might be more economically administered. First, I would say because it would take a less executive force, and second, I would say because there is an opportunity for a production of that which goes to the maintenances of the prisoners themselves.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, this proposition is a more serious proposition than the mere idle Yes and No vote of any Senator in this House. It is a very serious proposition that deserves your most earnest consideration. We might here by the use of a word or two try to throw out our chests and say that we all of a sudden have become humanitarians because we want a bill to put a man out in the open field. We hear so much about God's light and free air and the great green grass and the great privileges that come to men by working in the open. I understand that in Center county they are now erecting a prison and State Penitentiary that in the days to come may be a monument to Pennsylvania. It may be a glowing tribute to the people who place it there and may be a wonderful institution such as other states may look to as though it were a model over which penitentiaries should be built. They are now erecting this institution and I am told it will take ten years to erect it. They are now experimenting with it. This great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is going upward and onward and as the years go by will become no poorer. There is and always will be ample time for this improvement, if improvement it shall be shown, to take place in some future time. As I understand it, the penitentiary in Center county had its inception through the neglect, carelessness or inability of persons in Western Pennsylvania to properly take care of their prisoners. Whether that inability or neglect was caused by conditions over which the people in charge had no control, I know not, but I am under the impression that the management out there did the best they could under the circumstances. There is no reason why they of Western Pennsylvania, in order to establish themselves, as greater humanitarians than we of the east, should take from us that institution which means so much, not to the prisoners, not to the man who represents any particular district, more so, to my mind, means so much to the people who are the unfortunates in every case where a man goes to jail. The prisoner is not the unfortunate, the man behind the closed walls is not the unfortunate, he is just the victum of circumstances and conditions, and he is there to pay the penalty of whatever wrong he may have done to this great Commonwealth, but he is not the unfortunate. The unfortunates are the children, the wives and families of those men behind the prison gates. They are the unfortunates, not he who is confined; and gentlemen, I want to say to you there is a lot of talk here in reference to God's free air, and those things will redeem the prisoner. Why, gentlemen, those things have no more chance to redeem the prisoner than I would have to carry this building in my arms if it were not for the heart strings that are broken, the feelings created within the bosom of that prisoner that somewhere in some place in the Commonwealth there is someone that ought to have been his companionship, there is someone who needs his help and his assistance. He has not disgraced his name, but it is their name that he has brought down, that is wronged,—the name of his wife, his family and his children, and what can there be that will be more likely to bring that prisoner back to the position where he ought to be in this community than the companionship of that wife. The association or the meeting of his children are the relations on whom he depends, and I say if you put him in a position where these good people cannot visit him, you will, in my opinion, be more likely to make of him a hardened criminal, for when he is away from those people he forgets about the wrong he has done about the companions he made in the better days of life. In addition to that I want to say one more word, and that is this: That the hardship will fall upon the people who will be unable to go to Centre county to visit a prisoner, because, after all is said and done, we hear that men become prisoners owing to drink and to other conditions, and when as my experience teaches me that 90 per cent. of men who go to jail or penitentiaries go there through poverty. It is poverty and not rum that sends them to jail, and where are the funds coming from to bring to him the only thing that the poor convict has in life, his companions, his wife and his family. I say, gentlemen, it would be a great mistake to take this penitentiary, conducted as it is, second to none in this great Commonwealth, even in these great United States, from the City of Philadelphia, and take it up into Center county. Of course, I do not blame Center county for wanting the penitentiary there, for, after all is said and done, if you take State College and Senator Crow out of Center county, you will not have anything left in it.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, there were one or two statements made, I believe, that need just a little correcting, and that is this: That when this commission was appointed to look up a site for this penitentiary it was at that time the intention that both the eastern and western penitentiaries should unite on some common ground. I was so informed by members of the Commission a week ago on last Sunday evening. One of the leading newspapers of Philadelphia, in an editorial on Thursday last came out and said that the Eastern Penitentiary had outlived its usefulness and must be moved to the country. These wonderful men who have worked these wonderful reforms with these wonderful prisoners will meet the two boards, one of the eastern penitentiary and one of the western penitentiary, will meet and they shall elect the officers and I have been reliably informed that this wonderful man who says he will not leave Philadelphia to go to Centre county, will get the position if he desires it. It has been said here that the great majority of the people of the State do not want it. Let me tell you sir, and gentlemen of this Senate, that 65 per cent. of the people of this State live closer to Centre county than they do to Philadelphia. Shall these sixty-five per cent. pay this burden and the balance not help? I remember sitting at the Bellevue-Stratford last summer with Mr. Crow when one of these wonderful uplifters came along who was raising money to send children out of the country that they might get fresh air, and she had learned who Senator Crow was and she said three dollars and fifty cents would send a baby, or a young child, out to the country for two or three weeks. Now, if that work is going on in Philadelphia, to send these people out there, why should they oppose, if not from selfish motives, purely and simply, the moving of this place out there to Centre county, where these men will not cost the State one penny. This institution will be self-sustaining. It will not only be self-sustaining, but it will be able to raise sufficient farming truck and product to keep a number of the institutions in this State.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, just a few words in reply to the Senator from Beaver, when he talks about the young lady who was asking for $3.50 to send the baby to the country. I have observed in my walks around the City of Philadelphia that there are many of the Senators who come from this delightful country spot that they are so eloquently extolling to-night and are looking for the fresh air and the pure air of the City of Philadelphia, and this great self-sustaining institution we have heard about that is to be constructed, is so far in the remote future that I do not think his children, or his children's children, will ever live to see the ambitions realized of seeing this self-sustaining institution. There are, just as the Senator from Philadelphia, has said, surrounding Philadelphia, upward of two million and a half of population. In this institution, outside of the requirements necessary for the uplift of these poor unfortunates, there is carried on in that institution to-day something that is impossible to be carried on in Centre county because the population does not exist there, of the desire upon the part of that institution to give to those unfortunate people the most necessary and most essential requisite to lead better lives and that is the work of the missionaries, representing the different religious organizations in and about Philadelphia, and if we will come there on a Sunday he will see men of all religious denominations being talked to, being visited by some of the best people of the population of Philadelphia, and when these good people have formed and banded themselves into a society that is going to bring about something for the better outcome of those unfortunate persons. What is going to happen when you go to Centre county? Are those people going to be required to pay a fare of ten dollars and a hotel bill of practically ten dollars more to continue that work, when as he knows the struggle of those societies is for funds to keep those institutions going, and it is a desperate struggle at the present time, why load upon them the additional burden of raising that additional amount of money. I trust the Senators will consider that feature in the removal of this institution that the most important feature for the betterment of those unfortunate creatures is the work going on amongst the different religious organizations to show them the wrong that they have been doing in the past and the hope that in the future through that aid and instrumentality they would be made better citizens of this Commonwealth.

Mr. DAIX. Mr. President, I want to say for the benefit of the Senator from Beaver, who seems amazed that there are a few stones erected and torn down. I want to say that one of the greatest fights that has taken place in the Senate, Mr. President, that we had recently was on the Child Labor Bill, and in that very bill on the eight hour clause that the Governor desired so very much to be placed in it was for vocational training, and I would say for the benefit of the gentleman who has so accurate a knowledge of the Eastern Penitentiary, that if he would travel to the Huntingdon Reformatory he will see built a story and a half structure and shortly thereafter literally torn down. I would say to the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Crow, that while it is true enough that in 1911 this commission was appointed, I see even up to the present time in this very bill before us here to-night, in the preamble, there is one thing, the Western Penitentiary. When the commission went around to look for a location they went looking for one thing only, not for a consolidation, not for an eastern or western or middle, but for a Western Penitentiary. Is this anything very new, is it something that has cropped up suddenly, and is the Senator from Erie so much astonished that he thinks nobody from the western end of the State has any interest in this matter whatever, that it is simply something that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania demands? I will say that this bill to-night, 1497 is the number of the Senate, was introduced on March first, and in that bill he gives the right to the convicts to utilize the rock, the stones, etc., that are on that farm. Up to that time, March 1st, even in the bill you are passing on to-night, they were still speaking, as it speaks in that bill, of the Western Penitentiary, and there is not one word said about consolidation or anything that refers to this as being a great central penitentiary. Another thing, Mr. President, I want to say to the gentleman from Beaver, I would ask him later on, if he cares to tell me, the name of the gentleman who informed him and who was on that commission that it was the understanding that when that commission was formed and report made it was to go to Center county, because I say to you, sir, as the representative of that district in which this Eastern Penitentiary is located, that the Board of Directors of that institution informed me, and there is not one thing on the records to show that they were ever informed, there has not been one word said to them that there was any change desired. The modesty of the gentlemen, as some one puts it in kind of a sarcastic manner, as some great man of the Eastern Penitentiary, Warden McKenty, I doubt that he would come on the floor of the Senate to ask a man to vote against this bill. Can you say as much for some other representative? Some of the Senators themselves informed me that they have been requested by the gentleman of the other institution to vote in favor of the bill. I ask you, gentlemen, to vote against this bill, and I think that you will only be doing what is right.

Mr. CROW. Mr. President, In defense of the warden of the Western Penitentiary I want to say this: Mr. Francies has confidence in the justice of this proposition and the fact that he has such confidence is the reason that he is on the floor of the Senate to support it. To show that he is wholly unselfish in what he is doing he has voluntarily agreed to retire from the position of warden of the penitentiary in order that the position may be turned over to Warden McKenty when it is finished. He has confidence in this proposition and I say it is to his credit to have the courage to come to the Legislature and say that this is a great humanitarian proposition and he stands here unselfiesh in his advocacy of it.

And the question, recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

with the information that the House has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

The said amendments having been printed as required by the Constitution were twice read as follows:

In section 1, line 189, by striking out the following: "the rate of fifty (50) cents for each subpoena addressed to a single individual and twenty-five (25) cents for each additional name thereon All witnesses subpoenaed to appear before the board of registration commissioners shall be entitled to receive one dollar and fifty cents ($1.50) each per day as witness fees for their attendance which shall be paid at the time of service of the subpoena upon the witness and no witness shall be obliged to appear before the board of registration commissioners or be compelled to testify until witness fees have been paid him or her or them" and insert in lieu thereof the following: the rate of twenty-five cents for each subpoena issued which shall be in the same form and have the same force and effect as subpoenas now issued by the several courts of law of this Commonwealth All witnesses subpoenaed to appear before a Board of Registration Commissioners shall be entitled to receive one dollar and fifty cents ($1.50) each per day as witness fees for their attendance When witnesses so subpoenaed shall have entered their appearance upon the day or days set for the hearing or hearings the person or persons who shall have petitioned the hearing requiring the presence of said witnesses shall pay to the Board of Registration Commissioners the amount due as witness fees which amount the recorder shall in turn disburse among the witnesses according to their pro rata share as soon after the conclusion of the hearing as possible Witnesses summoned to attend hearings called by the Registrations Commissioners of their own volition shall be entitled to the same rate of compensation as witnesses subpoenaed to attend hearings petitioned by other persons and the moneys required to pay such fees shall be provided by the County Commissioners in each county in the same manner as is now provided by law for the payment of all other necessary and legal expenses of Boards of Registration Commissioners All moneys paid for subpoenas shall be paid to the County Treasurer by the Registration Commissioners

On the question,

Will the Senate concur in the same?

HOUSE MESSAGE.

CONCURRED RESOLUTION CONCERNING SEMI-CENTENNIAL OF THE CITY OF SCRANTON.

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced presented extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives, which was twice read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 17, 1915.

Whereas, On April twenty-third, one thousand nine hundred sixteen the City of Scranton will have completed the first half-century of its existence as a city; and

Whereas, The wonderful strides that Scranton has made as a progressive and modern city of the highest type have elicited the greatest admiration on the part, not alone of the citizens of Pennsylvania, but also of the citizens of the entire nation: and

Whereas, The City of Scranton is making preparations to celebrate in a fitting way its semi-centennial; and

Whereas, It is eminently proper that the citizens of Pennsylvania should show their recognition of the high qualities of the citizens of Scranton, of their boundless civic pride and of their great loyalty to the Keystone State; therefore

Be it resolved (if the Senate concur) That the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, through the medium of the General Assembly, views with pride its third largest city, and that it holds in full admiration and esteem the high qualities of the citizens of such city and calls upon the citizens of Pennsylvania to make earnest endeavors to participate as far as practicable in the coming celebration of the semi-centennial of the City of Scranton so as thus to evince by actual deeds the sentiments that we all cherish towards that city.

On the question,

Will the Senate concur in the same?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION FOR PRINTING OF BOROUGH CODE.

He also presented extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives, which was twice read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 17, 1915.

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That the Secretary of the Commonwealth is hereby directed to have printed five thousand extra copies of act number one hundred ninety-two, approved the fifteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and fifteen, entitled "An Act providing a system of government for boroughs and revising, amending and consolidating the law relating to boroughs."

On the question,

Will the Senate concur in the same?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Chair cleared his table and laid before the Senate communications in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, filed with the Chief Clerk during the interim, which were read as follows:

VETO OF CONCURRENT RESOLUTION FOR APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE TO REPORT ON FEASIBILITY OF SHIP CANAL ACROSS NEW JERSEY.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, May 14, 1915.

The Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I return herewith without my approval resolution of the Senate and House of Representatives providing for the appointment of a Committee to report on the feasibility and advisability of a ship canal across New Jersey to Connect Philadelphia with the Atlantic Ocean.

This Resolution provides for a State Commission to study and report upon a ship canal across New Jersey, connecting the port of Philadelphia with the Atlantic Ocean. It also appropriates $10,000 for the payment of the expenses of this Commission.

There is an official body in charge of such work, namely, the Engineering Corps of the United States Army. They have already made full and complete surveys of this whole project and published the same (See H. Doc. 391, 62nd Congress, 2nd Session, H. Doc. 196, 63rd Congress, 1st Session).

The State of New Jersey has already by law provided for the purchase and presentation to Congress of the necessary right of way.

Any alternative route would lead to confusion and delay in a project now under way of nation wide significance. There seems no commanding reason for the expenditure of this sum of money for a purpose of such remote and doubtful value.

For these reasons this Resolution is not approved.

MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

Mr. CATLIN. Mr. President, I move that the question, together with the further consideration of the resolution be postponed for the present.

Mr. DeWITT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

VETO OF SENATE BILL NO. 473.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, May 13, 1915.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Gentlemen:—I return herewith without my approval Senate Bill No. 473, entitled "An Act to amend the first section of an act approved the twenty-fifth day of April one thousand nine hundred and seven (Pamphlet Laws one hundred three) entitled 'A supplement to the act of April third eighteen hundred and fifty-one entitled 'An Act regulating boroughs' providing for the election of a borough solicitor fixing the term of office and prescribing his duties and authorizing the town council to fix his compensation' as amended by an act approved the fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws four hundred nine) entitled 'An Act to amend the first section of an act approved the twenty-fifth day of April one thousand nine hundred and seven (Pamphlet Laws one hundred three) entitled 'A Supplement to the act of April third eighteen hundred and fifty-one entitled 'An Act regulating boroughs' providing for the election of a borough solicitor fixing the term of office and prescribing his duties and authorizing the town council to fix his compensation' so as to include all boroughs and by changing the length of the term and the time of the election of borough solicitors and extending the terms of the borough solicitors holding office under the act of April twenty-fifth nineteen hundred and seven and providing for the furnishing of a bond by a trust or bonding company' so as to extend the terms of the borough solicitors holding office under said act of April twenty-fifth nineteen hundred and seven which expire at any time between the first Monday of January nineteen hundred and sixteen and the first Monday of January nineteen hundred and eighteen."

This Bill amends the Act of April 25, 1907 (P. L. 103) by changing the time for the election of borough solicitors and thereby extending their terms of service provided said terms expire between January 1, 1916, and January 1, 1918.

Inasmuch as these officers are elected by Borough Councils and not by the electors I can see no reason for this extension of tenure. The whole matter is now properly within the control of Councils.

For these reasons the bill is not approved.

MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

Mr. SONES. Mr. President, I move that the question, together with the further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. GRAFF. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

VETO OF SENATE BILL NO. 245.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, May 13, 1915.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I return herewith without my approval Senate Bill No. 245 entitled "An Act to amend an act entitled 'An Act authorizing appeals from assessments of taxes in this Commonwealth to the courts of common pleas' approved the nineteenth day of April Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine by giving the right to an appeal to other property owners and to the city borough county township school district or other public corporations entitled to levy and collect taxes on the assessment complained of."

This conference bill is intended to amend the method of appeals from assessments of taxes in this Commonwealth. The Act affected was approved April 19, 1889. It is an anomaly to allow one person to appeal from the assessment of another Person's property or even to allow a municipality to appeal from an assessment which is made by its own agents and representatives. Moreover the title has not been amended to agree with amendments in the body of the Bill. The bill is open to serious objections and would work no good to the people.

For these reasons the bill is not approved.

MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

Mr. GYGER. Mr. President, I move that the question, together with the further consideration of the bill be post poned for the present.

Mr. HINDMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

VETO OF SENATE BILL NO. 492.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harisburg, May 14, 1915.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I return herewith without my approval Senate Bill No. 492 entitled "An Act validating certain divorces."

This bill purposes to validate certain divorces heretofore granted in some manner not now defined by law.

Since now affidavits on divorce may be taken before judges, justices of the peace, notaries, prothonotaries, and clerks of court it seems unnecessary to extend the power to include alderman and magistrates. It is all to easy now to secure a divorce. This bill would enlarge the field of easy endeavor and is therefore not in the interest of the homes of our people.

For these reasons the bill is not approved.

MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

Mr. W. W. SMITH. Mr. President, I move that the question, together with the further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. GYGER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

VETO OF SENATE BILL NO. 989.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, May 14, 1915.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I return herewith without my approval Senate Bill No. 989 entitled "An Act authorizing the State Treasurer to refund to Clarence Balentine of Scranton Pennsylvania the amount paid by him as his commission for notary public and making an appropriation therefor."

This bill provides a refund of a notary fee because the payee is alleged to have been prevented by sickness from filing a bond within the thirty days required by law. This payee was commissioned on May 5, and he had until June 5 to file said bond. To refund now is palpably not necessary. If illness continues the next Legislature may in its wisdom provide redress.

For these reasons the bill is not approved.

MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

Mr. LYNCH. Mr. President, I move that the question, together with the further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. WARNER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

VETO OF SENATE BILL NO. 308.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, May 15, 1915.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I return herewith without my approval Senate Bill No. 308 entitled "An Act relative to plans of public improvements in cities of the first class and the incidental duties of the city solicitor."

This bill directs the City Solicitor in cities of the first class to propose in advance plans of all improvements contemplated when a jury is appointed to change in any way a highway or to take property for other public use.

No well governed city would refuse all necessary information to parties in interest when a change is made in any highway. When the city wish to enter upon some great and important improvement it is manifestly unwise to limit such improvement to the plans made in advance and publicly sold to all applicants for a trifling sum. Should the city, in such plans take over private property and assess damages according to the law there would remain only one thing to do, go to the end of the improvement without making any change in the plans or suffer the penalty of violating this provision were it enacted.

The city should have the right to amend and improve its plans if its constitutes authorities so decide. This bill violates in essence the spirit of home rule for cities.

For these reasons the bill is not approved.

MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

Mr. HACKETT. Mr. President, I move that the question, together with the further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. SENSENICH. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

VETO OF SENATE BILL NO. 365.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, May 15, 1915.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I return herewith without my approval Senate Bill No. 365 entitled "An Act authorizing Louis Gumbiner a resident of Philadelphia county Pennsylvania to bring suit or suits against and to recover from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania either in law or eqiuty in the court of common pleas of Philadelphia county the amount of such part of a certain wholesale liquor license fee as required by and paid by him to the treasurer of the city and county of Philadelphia in excess of the amount of such fee as was justly and legally due and payable together with legal interest on such excessive amount from the time of payment thereof."

This bill authorizes the plaintiff to sue and to recover in his action against the Commonwealth. If he is to recover why go through the formality of entering suit. Better—if the clear intent is to pay—at once make appropriation of amount claimed and both the plaintiff and the Commonwealth saved the expense and bother of litigation. Moreover, the suit is to be tried in the court of common pleas in Philadelphia instead of Dauphin county. Why locate the trial for the convenience of the plaintiff when the Commonwealth made no mistake

For these reasons the bill is not approved.

MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

Mr. FARLEY. Mr. President, I move that the question, together with the further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. PATTON. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

VETO OF SENATE BILL NO. 432.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, May 15, 1915.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I return herewith without my approval Senate Bill No. 432 entitled "An Act to repeal an act approved the sixteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirteen entitled 'An Act for the protection of the public health and the prevention of fraud and deception by regulating the storage and sale of cold storage foods fixing penalties for the violation of the provisions thereof and providing for the enforcement thereof.'"

This bill is a direct repealer of the Act of May 16, 1913, (P. L. 216) and is generally referred to as the "Cold Storage Repealer." The arguments advanced in its favor are that the present act is that it is too drastic and that it is of no benefit to the public. To repeal the present law would leave the people without protection from unwholesome food and with no safeguard against fraud and deception in the sale of cold storage food as fresh food. Only harm and confusion would follow. If the present law is as alleged not what it should be the plain duty is to amend it and make it right. To repeal it is to shift the alleged unfairness from the dealers to the people. Two wrongs do not make a right. The Commonwealth is anxious to foster, to protect, to encourage all legitimate activity of its merchants and other business men but it is in a commanding way determined not to permit knowingly any harm to come upon its people.

For these reasons the bill is not approved.

MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

Mr. CATLIN. Mr. President, I move that the question, together with the further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. CROW. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

VETO OF SENATE BILL NO. 291.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, May 15, 1915.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I return herewith without my approval Senate Bill No. 291 entitled "An Act to protect the public health and welfare by regulating the employment of females in hotels boarding houses and restaurants with respect to their hours of labor and the conditions of their employment by establishing certain sanitary regulations in which they work by requiring certain notices to be posted by providing for the enforcement of this act by the Commissioner of Labor and Industry and others and prescribing penalties for violation thereof and by repealing all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions thereof"

This bill relates to the terms of employment of females in hotels, boarding houses and restaurants. It amends existing law by changing the week hours from 54 to 63 and the day per week from 6 to 7. It omits from the schedule the maximum and the minimum hours of labor making its enfrocement difficult and confusion. It inserts the word "wilful" before "violations" and reduces the fine for violation from $200 to $100, and omits the imprisonment clause in the present law.

To lengthen the hours of labor for all female employes in the establishments named is a serious matter. It is asked for on the ground of administrative necessity. It is opposed on the ground of humane treatment of women. In the last analysis the welfare of our people is the supremely vital matter and the Industrial Board is competent under law to adjust any difficulties that are reasonably capable of adjustment.

The cooks in hotels and restaurants get no relief by this measure and the proprietors are inconvenienced because of the need for early meals. Here again a reasonable adjustment may accomplish more than a reactionary law.

In all such enactments it is difficult to distinguish between those who have never sensed the changing attitude of civilization to our working people and those who really desire to conserve social justice but find it difficult so to do. To the former the Commonwealth can of course give no heed. To the latter every aid shall be given to the end that their proper activities may be safeguarded in connection with the welfare of these worthy women who honestly labor to live. The present administration will gladly through the Industrial Board and its Legal Department lend every aid consistent with the most humane and just treatment of the cases concerned.

For these reasons the bill is not approved.

MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

Mr. HACKETT. Mr. President, I move that the question, together with the further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. McKEE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

RESOLUTION DISCHARGING THE JUDICIARY GENERAL COMMITTEE FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL NO. 206.

Mr. BALDWIN offered the following resolution, which was read, as follows:

Resolved, That the Judiciary General Committee be discharged from further consideration of Senate Bill No. 206, File Folio of the Senate 3221.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the resolution

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, the resolution which has just been presented by the gentleman from Delaware is to discharge the Judiciary General Committee, of which I have the honor of being chairman, from further consideration of Senate Bill No. 206. This action comes at this time by reason of the exercise of the veto power by the Chief Executive of this Commonwealth on the Cold Storage Repealer. The bill to which the resolution refers, when introduced in the Senate, was known as or called the Uniform Cold Storage Bill.

This bill has been under consideration by the Judiciary General Committee upon several occasions and lastly on Thursday of last week. At that time there appeared before the Judiciary General Committee the Deputy Attorney General, who was one of the committee which framed this bill. He stated to the Judiciary General Committee that the bill was not in the shape in which it was prepared by the Committee on Uniform Legislation; that it had been so mutilated by the Senate that anybody who would glance at it would see that it was scarcely recognizable. He also admitted that notwithstanding the fact that this was prepared by a committee upon uniform legislation and that the Legislatures of a vast number of the States of this Union were in session, that to no Legislature was this bill introduced except to the Legislature of Pennsylvania.

Upon the consideration of this bill on last Thursday it was the sense of the Committee that if this bill could be so amended as to make it fair some action by the Committee might be taken upon it, but there is possibly no way in creation to so amend this bill in order that we might have a proper and fair cold storage law in this Commonwealth, except to rip the bill out entirely and draft an entirely new bill. The bill in its present shape, or by any amendment which could be put to it, would be nothing more than a farce. No regulation is established by the bill other than to place it in the hands of the Dairy and Food Commission. The bill provides that a cold storage plant shall be one which has a temperature of thirty degrees, or under. Now, any one with any common sense at all will realize that to enact such a bill you might as well have no cold storage legislation at all, because the cold storage plants, dealing with the products which are put in cold storage, such as eggs and butter and so on, are from forty degrees and under and to have them at thirty degrees would make it impossible to keep them because that is below the freezing point and as a result cold storage plants would be eliminated entirely from any regulations upon the passage of this bill. The defects of this bill are so numerous that it would take the balance of this evening to explain them to this House. I think that the gentlemen of this House have confidence in the Judiciary General Committee in its deliberations upon matters which have come before it. I believe that the gentlemen of this House will support the Judiciary General Committee when they have declined to report this bill out of Committee.

When this cold storage proposition was first broached at this session of the Legislature, I, for one, said that if there were any drastic features of the existing law that could be shown to me, I would be the first man to come before this Legislature and suggest these changes. Notwithstanding that fact, they introduced in the Senate a repealer which passed the Senate, was defeated once in this House and then reconsidered, and passed and vetoed by the Governor. This bill, in its original shape—this 206 Senate Bill, was kept in the Senate until the fate of the Cold Storage Repealer upon its first defeat was known; then it was reported out of the Senate, amended out of all semblance to its former self and then shot over here to this House. I say, in all sincerity to you, gentlemen, that to sustain this resolution to direct the Judiciary General Committee to report this bill out of Committee would be a grievous mistake. You would be doing something which has not yet been done upon any question of legislation in this House. This is the first time that such a resolution has been offered in this House during this session and I think that you men will agree with me that the consideration which has been given to this bill has been full and fair, to the best interests of all the people of this Commonwealth and not to the interests of a select few who have been working Heaven and earth to protect the abnormal profits which prior to the Act of 1913 they made in dealing with these foodstuffs. I think you will agree with me that this bill is in the proper place and where it ought to be—in the hands of the Judiciary General Committee—and I ask you to sustain me in voting down this resolution.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I wish every member who feels that this is a bill of importance to the people of Pennsylvania will turn to their Senate Calendars and turn to file folio 3221. I want to say to the members of the House that while my friend from Philadelphia tells you that those who have stood for the same side of this proposition that I have stood for have been standing for the selfish interest of a few as against the interests of the many of this State, is grossly mistaken. The people who are praying tonight that the law remain upon the statute books, as it now is, without the slightest change, are the men who live beyond the borders of the State of Pennsylvania. Nobody is praying louder and harder than those great combinations known as the Western Packing Houses. I told you a few days ago, and I know whereof I speak, that the law on the statute books now has not only demoralized but it has practically destroyed the cold storage houses of the State of Pennsylvania, involving hundreds of thousands—over a million of Pennsylvania capital. If it gave to the people of Pennsylvania, insofar as Pennsylvanians are concerned, the protection of the public, insofar as letting the public know just how long that foodstuff had been in cold storage, so far as that which has come from without the borders of Pennsylvania, it has been a gross, glaring falsehood and a deception upon the people of Pennsylvania. Oh, I only wish the members of this House could know what I know to be an absolute fact and there would not be one vote against bringing that bill out of Committee. When these great packing house interests bring up from the Argentine country the beef that is five, six and seven weeks in cold storage and nobody knows how long in the Argentine and Brazilian countries, that it was not in cold storage, before it came from there, and I hope that you believe me, that product is sold in Pennsylvania as fresh meat under the law which is on the statute books.

If ever the Governor of this State made a mistake in vetoing a bill, he made a mistake in vetoing the bill on the repeal of that law. My friend from Philadelphia, stated on this floor three weeks ago that the people on the side that I stood on were not playing fair; that this bill was smothered in the Senate Committee. It passed the Senate Committee and came over and put in his committee and it has been slumbering here for two weeks. I think you will remember that he told you what I say, without reading directly from the Journal, that these were his very words. Now, he tells you that the reason the bill should stay there is because it has been amended out of all form. That is why I ask you to take the bill and read it and see if what I say to you is correct. I ask you, as members of this House and who want to do what is fair and right by Pennsylvanians and Pennsylvania capital and that is what is fair and right to the citizenship of this State, whether there is any trouble to insert amendments upon a second reading, that have been stricken out by the Senate. There is no dimculty whatever if my friend is in favor of the bill as introduced and there is no difficulty whatever in restoring, if desired in the judgment of the House, the bill to its original form. I want to say to you, my friends, that I think this is the first time in my life that I ever asked to have a committee discharged from the consideration of a bill, and it is only because this is the last moment that there will be an opportunity left toward correcting the ills that exist and the unfairness that exist insofar as Pennsylvania capital and Pennsylvania interests and Pennsylvania citizenship is concerned. A committee has the right to refuse to report a bill with a favorable recommendation, but I don't think that a committee has the right to hold a bill that all concede is of as vital importance to the citizenship of Pennsylvania as any bill that has been before this House. It is only because of the vital interests involved of so many of our people that I am constrained to depart from a position that I have always observed and respect in my whole legislative career. You know and I know that when this proposition was before the House to repeal the law entirely, two weeks ago tonight, this House in its wisdom—and I want to say that it did act wisely—found but seventy-eight members who were not in favor of entirely wiping off the statute books that drastic law that is on the statute books now and no interfering with Pennsylvania's citizenship and interests and which has not given the people one particle of protection. Now, gentlemen, certainly it is safe for you to put this bill upon the calendar.

If you do not think it can be amended tomorrow so as to satisfy your best judgment, then do not vote for it. But I do not hope, realizing the interests at stake, all some men have in this State is at stake in this proposition, I do hope that you will decide that the bill should be placed on the calendar to-night, and you can take the bill home, read it carefully, thoroughly digest it, and if you think it right in your wisdom, you will put this amendment in tomorrow, and if it does not meet with your wishes, then on third reading you can defeat it. I do hope that the House will sustain me in my motion to discharge the committee and place the bill upon the calendar.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, when the general cold storage repealer was before this House, the gentleman from Delaware saw absolutely no merit in the original cold storage act of 1913. It was not possible to amend it, therefore the only inference to be drawn from his position in this matter is that there should have been no cold storage regulation. The Governor of the Commonwealth in his wisdom has said that it would be unfair to leave them without some regulation, as to the foodstuffs they consume, that are under our system of freezing and refrigeration, kept in cold storage for a certain length of time. As was pointed out to this House by the gentleman from Philadelphia, this uniform cold storage act with an all round season provided, that no article can be kept in cold storage for 12 months, with a possible extension of 4 more months, if the Dairy and Food Commissioner grants the extension. This bill we kept away from the consideration of this House until the cold storage repealer went through. Mr. Speaker, I want to call the attention of this House to the fact that the position of this bill is absolutely comparable to the question of the constitutional convention. This House defeated the constitutional convention bill last Tuesday, that I sponsored in this House, believing that they had a right to believe that the members of the Senate would report out a bill providing for a constitutional convention. Has that bill come out? No And this cold storage uniform act is only brought up here to-night, because the Governor of the Commonwealth vetoed the repealer of the act of 1913. Now what does it mean? It means that if the act that is proffered here to-night, had any merit in it, it should have been passed before you attempted to take the cold storage act from the books. And, Mr. Speaker, I ask this House to-night to leave this bill in the Committee on Judiciary General; let it receive its proper consideration where it has a right to be, and where it would have slumbered and the gentleman from Delaware would never have asked to have it brought out if the Governor had not vetoed the repealer of the Act of 1913. I say that, if the people of Pennsylvania last week or two weeks ago, when the cold storage bill was repealed, if they were entitled to proper protection, and that protection is given in this uniform bill, why, why, in all fairness ought our most distinguished member in this House ask you to repeal all the law without putting any law upon the books. I say, Mr. Speaker, in all fairness to the people in this Commonwealth, in all fairness to the general cold storage bill of 1913, that has proved of inestimable value to every man, woman and child in the Commonwealth, that you should vote "no" on this motion at this time to discharge the committee from the consideration of this bill, and I trust that your noes will be in such majority that we will have on the books for many years, the general cold storage act of 1913, where it ought to be.

Mr. KITTS. Mr. Speaker, we have consumed a great deal of time in this House in arguing out this cold storage proposition. Every member here is thoroughly familiar with the proposition from the standpoint of an argument as to whether or not the Act of 1913 should be repealed, and from the standpoint of whether or not the bill should be passed. Now, I am not going to make any argument on the merits of this bill, or the demerits of the other bill. But this evening we are confronted with an entirely different proposition; the repealer, after a bitter fight was finally passed, and went to the Governor. Now, because it was vetoed, they use the argument that this bill should be allowed to sleep itself to death in the Judiciary General Committee. I only want to ask the members of this House to vote aye on this motion and bring this bill out and place it on the calendar, and if it is the will of the majority of the membership of this House, that it should go to his Excellency the Governor for action, let it so be; if not, let it be voted down, but I ask you in all fiairness whether or not, whether you legisilators think this is the proper policy that the opponents of this bill should kill it in the committee with some sleep-producer when it ought to be out here on the calendar, and I ask you to vote aye on this motion.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, the cold storage fight has doubtless wearied this House, but as a member of the Judiciary General Committee, and as having been interested in this subject, and by reason of the very clever literature that was sent out by the Corn Exchange National Bank I did give this matter some attention. I made a few remarks when this subject was before the House before. This bill is not as it was when it was passed by the Senate as to matters which are of vital interest to the people of this State. The only proposition behind this agitation for no regulation of cold storage is to permit those who deal in that class of goods to sell as fresh those things which have been stored. Now the most salutary regulation, in this bill, as the members can wish for themselves, is that requiring every licensee to report to the Dairy and Food Commissioner what stuff he has in cold storage every month, was stricken out by the Senate and the gentleman from Philadelphia called your attention to the fact that a cold storage warehouse with a temperature of 30 degrees or less is not a fit place for the storage of eggs and for hardly any of the foodstuffs. Now, Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Delaware and the gentleman from Erie who believed that this was such a good bill and that it was kept in the Senate until the act repealing the Act of 1913 was out of the way, they certainly knew what they were talking about, and they must have known at that time that this bill was intended to throw down the bars in this country and then we would have again the "rots and spots" scandal such as we had two or three years ago. Because that would present the opportunity for cold storage products to be sold to the people of this Commonwealth for as high price as the dealer could get. They must have known that at that time, and for that reason this whole scheme to repeal the Act of 1913 ought to be looked upon with suspicion. Another thing, this bill attempts to prevent the sale of cold storage products coming from other States, but it is not nearly so satisfactory and not nearly so complete in its provisions as the Act of 1913. That act, it seems to me has gone as far as it is possible to go, and not violate the Interstate Commerce Law. If the Dairy and Food Department of this Commonwealth does its duty it will not be possible for dealers to bring into this State foodstuffs from other States and sell them as fresh, when they are cold storage. That Department gets a large appropriation from this Commonwealth and has active agents, and if they get on the job, it will not be possible for the cold storage men of other States to take advantage of the people of Pennsylvania, in the manner that the cold storage men could if the act were repealed. Now, as I said in addressing the House before, it is not our business whether or not other States handle this problem properly,—it is none of our concern. Let us do the best we can for our own people and if the Act of 1913 does not prevent the sale of cold storage food from other states and from other countries as fresh, why let us amend it; but it expressly prohibits that and if there is a fair, honest, earnest and effective enforcement of that law there will not be cold storage food sold in Pennsylvania that is not fit for the people to use, and that is all that anybody ought to ask. Let everybody who sells cold storage food, sell it as cold storage food. It is good food and we eat lots of it, but let them be honest about it, and give us this regulation. This works a hardship on our people only on those who attempt to defraud the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, this bill came before the Judiciary General Committee for its consideration on Thursday evening of last week. There was hardly a quorum present at that meeting and I ask the Deputy Attorney General, who was supposed to have drawn the Uniform Cold Storage bill, to attend that meeting and explain the provisions of the bill. Mr. Hargest came and stated to the committee that the bill, as presented to the committee for its consideration, was not exactly in the same form as was represented by the Commissioners on uniform law as appointed by the Governors of the various states. We then, in the committee, left this bill with our worthy and respected chairman and asked him to so amend it as to have it conform with the general ideas that he has had in his investigation of the cold storage proposition so that we could present it to this House in proper form, and then this House could take action on the bill in case the Governor vetoed the repealer which was at that time before him. Since that time, the Governor has vetoed the repealer, and this afternoon the chairman of the Judiciary General Committee advised me that he could not amend the bill, that he had with him, in such shape as to make it presentable to this House. I desire to say, Mr. Speaker, at this time, that, with due respect to the chairman of the Judiciary General Committee, that a bill of such importance ought not to be left to one man, and that no one man ought to have the power to say that the law of 1913 shall remain on our statute books, when I believe that he himself will say that, in one or two instances, the law of 1913 is drastic, and too drastic, and the only question for the consideration of this House at this time, as I see it, is whether, under the facts as stated by me, if they be true, whether this one man shall have the power to say that the Act of 1913 shall remain in full force and effect, or whether the House, in its wisdom, should not discharge the committee from the consideration of this bill and place this bill squarely before this House. I believe we ought to vote "aye" on this motion.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, there seems to be another side to this question. We worked here as a body practically five months and if you read the press to-day you will find comments coming from all sides on the work we have done. At the opening of this session the Speaker of this House selected committees to deal with different subjects according to the standing of certain men in the different vocations of life. I presume that no other committee of this House was selected with more care than the Judiciary General Committee. You take the members of that committee and you will find that they are made up of the best men in this body, and for us at this late hour to begin the discharging of committees from the work which was placed in their hands, it seems to me would be an unwise closing for the session of the Legislature of 1915. If this bill is a good bill I haven't any question, as far as I am personally concerned, but what the Judiciary General Committee, as it now stands, would report it out. I have just as much confidence in that committee to say that if it is a bad bill it will remain where it ought to remain; and I am opposed, for one, to discharging the committee from the further consideration of this bill.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, just one word in reply to the gentleman from Philadelphia. Some of the things which he has told this House are true. In others, he is grievously mistaken. There was a quorum present of the Judiciary General Committee on last Thursday and if the matter had been permitted to go to a vote this bill would have been killed in Committee on that day; but it was only for the purpose of seeing whether or not some such adjustment could be made that it was not so killed; and the gentleman from Philadelphia himself is the man who suggested that this matter be left in the hands of the Chairman of that committee to report at the next meeting of the Judiciary General Committee on Tuesday. In reply to a question of his on the way up to Harrisburg to-day, I told him, as far as I could see, it was absolutely impossible to so amend this bill as to make it fair and that is the same statement which I have made to this House to-night. And I want to say to the members of this House that the Judiciary General Committee, every one of them, considered this bill, who was present and every one knew more or less who was not present, and it was the consensus of opinion that it ought to end there; and I ask the House to support the committee and vote "no" on this resolution.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, now I hope the House will not think that they are voting on the question as to whether the committee is right or wrong. I hope the members will vote on the question as to whether they think it is wise to attempt to take the drastic features of the law of 1913 off the statute books so that not only the men who have their capital invested to the extent of hundreds and hundreds of thousands of dollars but so that the people of Pennsylvania may not be deliberately deceived. Now, I told you the other week, and I want to repeat it to you, for it is true, the conditions are these: To-day the goods that come from out the State can be put upon the counter and sold marked 'fresh" and the goods, the production of your friends and your constituents and the product of the cold storage warehouse of your people from Philadelphia,—my friend from Philadelphia,—are compelled to place their goods, which may be weeks, aye, months, fresher than the others, and yet they are compelled, under this law, to brand these goods "cold storage." Now, will you not stand and put this bill on the calendar for the interests of your own constituents notwithstanding what my friend may say that I am here representing a selfish interest. He is grievously mistkaen. I am standing for the interest of my own citizenship because of the impractical law that is on the statute book, put there, perhaps, with the best of intention, but which in its operation has worked harmfully and is a deception upon your own citizens. Now, do not think that you are voting on the question of whether my friend, Wilson, from Philadelphia, should be sustained in his views. You are voting on the question whether we cannot—and we can—change this cold storage law so that it will be fair to our people as well as it is now so unfair and has led to the accumulation of hundreds of thousands of dollars of profit off Pennsylvanians at the expense of Pennsylvanians. I hope you will put the bill on the calendar.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. W. H. Wilson and Mr. Roney, and were as follows:

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA TO CALL UPON THE CITIZENS OF PENNSYLVANIA TO MAKE EARNEST ENDEAVORS TO PARTICIPATE AS FAR AS PRACTICABLE IN THE COMING CELEBRATION OF THE SEMI-CENTENNIAL OF THE CITY OF SCRANTON SO AS TO EVINCE BY ACTUAL DEEDS THE SENTIMENTS THAT WE ALL CHERISH TOWARDS THAT CITY.

Mr. EHRHARDT offered a concurrent resolution, which was read as follows:

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION.

In the House of Representatives, May 3, 1915.

Whereas, On April twenty-third, one thousand nine hundred sixteen the City of Scranton will have completed the first half-century of its existence as a city; and

Whereas, The wonderful strides that Scranton has made as a progressive and modern city of the highest type have elicited the greatest admiration on the part, not alone of the citizens of Pennsylvania, but also of the citizens of the entire nation; and

Whereas, the City of Scranton is making preparations to celebrate in a fitting way its semi-centennial; and

Whereas, It is eminently proper that the citizens of Pennsylvania should show their recognition of the high qualities of the citizens of Scranton, of their boundless civic pride and of their great loyalty to the Keystone State; therefore

Be it resolved (if the Senate concur), That the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, through the medium of the General Assembly, views with pride its third largest city, and that it holds in full admiration and esteem the high qualities of the citizens of such city and calls upon the citizens of Pennsylvania to make earnest endeavors to participate as far as practicable in the coming celebration of the semi-centennial of the City of Scranton so as thus to evince by actual deeds the sentiments that we all cherish towards that city.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the resolution?

Mr. EHRHARDT. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I rise to present for the consideration of this House, a resolution calling the attention of the Commonwealth, officially, to the celebration on April 23, 1916, of the fiftieth anniversary of Scranton as a city. The record of Scranton as a municipality, its wonderful growth and development, the loyalty of its citizens to the nation and state, their contribution to the advancement of the Commonwealth and the Commonwealth's debt to this, the third city within her borders are deserving of a more eloquent speaker than myself. Still, it is with no small degree of pride that I rise to present this resolution. One of the youngest cities of the Commonwealth and yet the third in population, the third in its manufactures and wealth, but the first in the hearts of a loyal and proud citizenship.

Moreover, we have a right to be proud, we citizens of Scranton and we are not ashamed to confess, aye boast of it. Founded but a few years before it was incorporated as a city, and since its incorporation growing by leaps and bounds, a city of industry, of business and of homes, Scranton stands today in the heart of the anthracite coal fields, a city of which the Commonwealth need not be ashamed.

It is the customary thing for citizens of a municipality or a town to stand by their home town, to extoll her virtues, to minimize her faults, but Scranton is different and her citizens are different. Only recently, the learned attorney general of our Commonwealth paid a tribute to the activity of Scranton's citizenship when he declared that Scranton men are more than any men he ever knew, on the lookout for the interest and the welfare of their town, Scranton. Gentlemen, every Scranton citizen pleads guilty of that charge.

From the time that Col. George W. Scranton, afterward a member of Congress from this State, founded the city of Scranton until today, that has been the keynote of every Scranton life, Scranton is a town without an anvil chorus. Scranton is a happy town. Scranton is a prosperous town. Furthermore it deserves to be.

Scranton is the metropolis of the anthracite coal field, the center of the richest spot in the Commonwealth, for the yearly yield of coal from the anthracite field exceeds in value the gold yield of the entire nation.

Scranton is the first city not only in the Commonwealth but in the nation in choral singing, the trophies of its choirs having been won over decades in world competitions.

Scranton is the city of industries. Its citizenship a year ago performed for its industrial development a feat that stands without parallel—namely, raising one million dollars from the people of the city for the development of industry.

Scranton is a city of conventions. Its welcoming arms have been extended to organizations without number in this Commonwealth. Hundreds of the citizens of this Commonwealth, nay thousands and tens of thousands sing her praises as a host.

Scranton as a city is liberal and broad in its religious and charitable development. It is a city of churches. It is a city of charitable institutions and better than that, of charitable people.

Almost without end, could I extend this just record of the worth of our city. But I shall forbear, lest I be charged with claiming for our city all of the virtues. We are to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of our city fittingly. We extend an invitation to the people of the State to attend. We urge the representation of the officials of our Commonwealth. Scranton deserves the best. She shall provide the best.

In closing, I leave with you this thought: We love our city, Scranton, with a love only second to that of the love we bear our Commonwealth and the nation.

Hon. John E. Barett, in the Scranton Republican, says:

STATE RECOGNITION OF SCRANTON'S SEMI-CENTENNIAL.

In less than half a century, Pennsylvania has doubled its population. Within the same period, the population of Scranton has been almost quadrupled, showing that this city has done its full share in contributing to the numerical growth of the Commonwealth's citizenship.

The development of the State industrially has also been remarkable in the years that have elapsed since the incorporation of Scranton as a city, and it seems to us that it would be entirely in order if the Commonwealth should take congnizance of the semi-centennial celebration of that event which occurs April 23, 1916.

Scranton takes pride in the fact that it is the third city in the State of Pennsylvania, ranking after Philadelphia and Pittsburgh in population and importance, and we feel that this great State itself, with its population of 8,000,000, can well afford to give its indorsement to the proposed jubilee celebration of one of its most important and progressive cities.

Such action as the Commonwealth may deem best in recognition of Scrnton's semi-centennial celebration should be taken at the present session of the Legislature, since the General Assembly will not meet again until after the observance has been held.

The state recognizes World Fairs held in various parts of the country by making liberal appropriations for commissions and special buildings at such enterprises, and it would seem entirely pertinent that it show its interest in, and approval of, such an event as Scranton's celebration of its fiftieth anniversary as a city.

The Republican does not undetrake to say how the Pennsylvania Legislature should manifest its appreciation of Scranton's semicentennial, but it is of the opinion that an occasion so important in the life of the third city in the State, should not be without significance to the State itself, which is constituted of a number of communities in which ours may justly be considered a creditable example of the enterprise and progress characteristic of the entire Commonwealth.

We should regard it as a timely and thoughtful act, therefore, on the part of the General Assembly at Harrisburg, if it took some suitable action in recognition of Scranton's semi-centennial, and in appreciation of the remarkable progress made by this city since its incorporation nearly fifty years ago.

Other communities have also advanced in that time, but no other Pennsylvania city, having the same population as this had fifty years back, has made the remarkable progress shown by Scranton in that period.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

RESOLUTION RELATING TO PRINTING THE BOROUGH CODE.

Mr. McVICAR offered a concurrent resolution, which was read as follows:

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION.

In the House of Representatives, May 17, 1915.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the Secretary of the Commonwealth is hereby directed to have printed five thousand extra copies of act number one hundred ninety-two, approved the fifteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and fifteen, entitled "An Act providing a system of government for boroughs and revising, amending and consolidating the law relating to boroughs."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the resolution?

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, the resolution just read provides for the printing of 5,000 extra copies of Act No. 192, being the Borough Code, which was signed by the Governor on Saturday.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

BILL ON FIRST READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1781 (Senate Bill No. 840), entitled:

An Act providing for the sale distribiution and use for the promotion of biological science and for the discovery of new methods of treatment in medicine and surgery of unclaimed animals in the public pounds and providing penalties for neglect or refusal to comply with the provisions of this act

And said bill having been read at length the first time,

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT BILL.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I move that Senate Bill No. 795 (House Bill No. 1768), File Folio 3147, entitled:

An Act providing for watchers male and female at elections where constitutional amendments are submitted extending right of suffrage and imposing duties on election officers and county commissioners and providing penalties on page 13 of today's calendar be recommitted to the Committee on Elections.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, this motion to recommit has reference to what is popularly known as the bill on female watchers, providing that watchers of the female sex may be eligible to act as election officers at the next election. This bill was, I believe, wrongfully, probably inadvertently referred to the Judiciary General Committee. The object is that the bill be referred to the Election Committee as this is an election matter and I believe that it can be properly and judiciously left to the Election Committee and I ask that House vote "Aye" on this motion.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me that there is a tendency to saddle a great many things on the Judiciary General Committee. My friends seem to be in the humor of relieving the Judiciary General Committee from work. A few moments ago, they asked to have the committee discharged from the consideration of a bill and now when we have done the work and have reported a bill out they say we had no business to do it because it was not given to the proper committee.

The purpose of this bill is, as I understand the gentleman from Philadelphia, to provide for female watchers at the next election. I don't think that it needs any technical knowledge on the part of any member of this House or on the part of any committee of this House to properly discuss the provisions of this bill. The principles are very simple and I think it would be unwise to vote in favor of this motion. All the big parties in this State have a plank in their platforms favoring Woman Suffrage. This is only an enabling measure and it certainly is not more than fair that when a proposition of this kind comes before the people of this Commonwealth that they should have their own watchers. I think we are stultifying the people of this Commonwealth if they are defeated at the polls and subject to criticism by reason of their not having the right to have their own watchers and it would be unfair to any and all of the political parties and their platforms. This bill should remain on the calendar and let come up for third reading and let each member vote as he sees fit, in accordance with his own judgment and I trust the motion will not prevail.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The noes appear to have it.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Glenn and Mr. Forster.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, if there is any member in this House who can show a good reason why this bill should be passed. I would like to hear from him. I think there has been no bill in this session that showed a more narrow partisanship and that showed the unfairness of spirit that this bill shows. During the entire session we have had very little legislation of a partisan character, and I hope that this House will live up to its reputation to-night. I appeal to the other members on the other side in all fairness to consider this bill on it merits, I know, I feel and I realize, that if you gentlemen have decided to pass this bill, you have the votes for it, but I appeal to you as men: I appeal to your sense of fairness, and I believe that there are enough fair-minded men in this House to give us at least a square deal.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, the purpose of the bill under consideration is to change the position of the party squares upon the ballot, the official ballot. Mr. Speaker, after thirty years or more, the democratic party in this State won the first position upon the official ballot at the last Presidential election, and under the present law as it now stands, they would be entitled to that position until after the next presidential election and then, if they polled the majority of the votes cast. This bill aims to take away from that party what they have honestly and fairly won. In other words the majority party of this State seeks to supplant the minority party in the first place on the official ballot by passing this act. Now I for one do not believe that this is fair play. I do not believe that the great republican party of Pennsylvania needs to resort to this measure to win a victory. I say that it is not fair and it is not just and I call upon the fair minded men of this House to vote against this measure.

Mr. KITTS. Mr. Speaker, I cannot understand why there is such an expression of gratitude passing over the faces of some of the republican members, and I heartily voice what my friend Mr. Sarig and my friend Mr. Flynn have said. We, as democrats, have been obliged to come into this assembly for some time in a hopeless minority. In our party, we have been obliged to trail along in defeat for the very reason that your great party in the State has held the balance of power in this Commonwealth for years, and irrespective of any way or any method by which the democratic national administration won out in electing President Wilson, I say that it is only fair that this matter be left as it has been since that party won its laurels at the polls. It seems mighty peculiar to me, with the overwhelming majority tnat your candidates have had in this State and with the utmost ease with which you have placed those men in your offices, that at this time in the history of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, that you would need to resort to a trick of this kind. After two sessions of voicing the sentiments of my party I can hardly believe that the membership of your party would so far forget themselves or be so grossly unfair to this small handful of representative democrats of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, that you would seek to take away from them that first column position on the ballot which rightfully belongs to them. I ask you this question, if you gentlemen, pledged to the principles of your party, believing in democracy, as you would if you were democrats, how would you like to be confronted with this very proposition? Are you not satisfied with "shaking the plum tree" day in and day out? Are you not satisfied with filling all the offices in Pennsylvania with Republicans? Are you not satisfied with coming down here year after year and year after year and placing in that honorable position (indicating the Speaker's chair) a Republican? Are you not satisfied year after year with placing in the Executive Chamber a Republican, without finally coming here in this session of 1915 and robbing this little party of what few rewards it has and out of justice and right naturally belong to it? I have confidence in your fair-mindedness; I have confidence in your judgment, and I ask you to vote this bill down.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

HOUSE BILL NO. 1621 RECOMMITTED TO COMMITTEE ON JUDICIARY SPECIAL.

Mr. ARON offered the following motion which was twice read considered and agreed to.

Moved by Mr. Aron, seconded by Mr. Graham, that House Bill No. 1621, File Folio 8983, entitled:

An Act relating to auctioneers their agents and employes be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary Special.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER VOTE.

Mr. GRAHAM offered the following motion which was twice read and considered.

Moved by Mr. Graham, seconded by Mr. Gransback, that the vote by which House Bill No. 1531 (Senate Bill No. 272), File Folio 3837, entitled:

An Act creating a State Bureau of Elevator Inspection in the Department of Labor and Industry and defining the powers thereof throughout the State of Pennsylvania excepting the cities of the first and second class providing for the appointment of a Chief Inspector an Assistant Chief Inspector and as many elevator inspectors and employes as may be necessary from time to time to enforce this act and providing salaries for the same providing laws for the protection of the public elevator operators and attendants empowering the chief of said bureau to make alter amend and repeal rules and regulations relating thereto and providing a penalty for the violation of any provision or provisions of this act or the rules and regulations of said bureau on page 7 of the calendar of May 11th, 1915 was defeated on final passage, be reconsidered.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. MEARKLE. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House. this is the same elevator bill that we defeated last week. It is a bill creating a Bureau of Inspection in the Department of Labor and Industry at an approximate expense of some sixty to seventy-five thousand dollars.

It creates twenty-five new positions with salaries ranging any where from five thousand down to one thousand dollars, together with the incidentals that go with the make up and incorporation of the office. We have no knowledge and don't know the entire extent or limit of the expenditure that will be necessary in creating a department of this kind and it only applies to cities outside of first and second class cities.

As stated, before, last week in my remarks, that in studying this bill I failed to fully comprehend the full purport of the act. In these requirements on page seven from line 131 continuing on down to the bottom of the page, you will note that it describes to an extent and specifies the same, certain devices shall be incorporated into the elevator. Since this bill came before the House a week ago I have made it my business and my duty to make some investigation with reference to this matter and have brought it to the attention of different elevator companies and manufacturers and inspectors throughout the State of Pennsylvania, and among them are the largest elevator manufacturers of the country, and they said this to me: That the specifications as detailed on page seven are such that it is manufactured only by one company in the country and that is by the Standard Elevator Interlocking Company in Philadelphia, Pa. I am also reliably informed that a similar bill has been introduced in seven different states throughout the United States and defeated in seven states throughout the United States. Now, if this is a fact gentlemen of the House, if this fact exists, it occurs to me that we should be careful as to how we vote on this bill before we reconsider it and I ask your careful consideration and your careful attention and that you vote "no" on the bill.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker there is only one object in putting this bill on the calendar again and that is that the gentlemen who last week voted against it have an opportunity to carefully consider it and I will endeavor to place a few facts before you that will, I think, convince you of the merits of this act. The Commissioner of Labor and Industry has drafted this bill and has recommended its passage and he is doing so for one purpose and that is to safe-guard the lives of the people throughout this Commonwealth. In the city of Philadelphia we have in operation just such a law and since 1911, after the passage of this act by the Legislature, the deaths and injuries resulting from elevator accidents have been reduced over one hundred per cent. and why? Because prior to that time the inspectors of elevators were those who were employed by the insurance companies or subject to them. Every elevator was insured and is insured at the present time; but the inspectors were subject to the loss of that insurance if they became too strict and for that reason we think it a good idea, and it has proven so, that we should have elevator inspectors, men who know what an elevator is and know when it is not properly adjusted.

It has been said in this House last week that those serving under the Department of Labor and Industry as factory inspectors inspected elevators. Now, gentlemen, you know and I know that a factory inspector or any other inspector has no right and cannot justly and fairly inspect an elevator unless he is familiar with its mechanism and for that reason the Department of Labor and Industry, after a careful investigation, has suggested this bill that is before you to-night. Of course there will be some expense. Of course there is always some expense in establishing an inspection or any other department; but I assure you, and I think I am not going outside of the line when I state that it was not in consideration of any device or any other consideration that suggested itself to the Department to frame this act. It was purely and simply for the protection of the lives of those who must use elevators.

I therefore ask you to vote to put this bill back on the calendar.

Mr. HERMAN. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I would like to have the Chair ascertain how these gentlemen voted when this bill was last before the House; both the gentleman who made the motion and the gentleman who seconded it.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Graham, vote?

Mr. GRAHAM. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the negative.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Gransback, vote?

Mr. GRANSBACK. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the negative.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION.

Mr. HERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of information.

Mr. HERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know if there was a "yea" and "nay" vote on this bill when it was defeated?

The SPEAKER. There was a roll call. This bill was defeated on third reading by a vote of 49 yeas to 102 nays on a roll call. The Chair is so informed by the Clerks and the record shows the same.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER declared the "noes" appeared to have it.

Whereupon,

A division was called for and 68 gentlemen voting in the affirmative and 90 in the negative, the question was determined in the negative and the motion was not agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time from page 27 of to-day's calendar, House Bill No. 1772, File Folio 9041, Bills on Third Reading Postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1772, entitled:

An Act to provide revenue by imposing a State tax upon the sale or agreements to sell or memoranda of sales of stock and upon deliveries or transfers of shares or certificates of stock of domestic and foreign corporations co-partnership associations and joint stock associations providing the manner of collecting such tax and prescribing penalties

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. STEIN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. STEIN. Mr. Speaker, my point of order is that House Bill No. 1772 is not now properly before the House for the reason that an exact duplicate thereof, House Bill No. 1356, was defeated by this body on third reading last week.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is not debatable, however, the Chair will permit the interrogation if the gentleman from Allegheny will permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. STEIN. Mr. Speaker, I will gladly, upon any matter properly the subject of interrogation on this point.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Allegheny knows that I will not ask any other question. I would like the gentleman from Allegheny to inform the House upon what he bases his point of order.

Mr. STEIN. Mr. Speaker, upon the precedent of the House, as found in Smull's, on page 1032, et cetera.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I think it is unnecessary to say that each House is a controlling body in itself and not bound by precedents, and unless the gentleman can point to some constitutional provisions or something within the rules of this present session, his point of order is not well taken.

Mr. STEIN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman's remarks are out of order, there being no debate permitted upon this question.

The SPEAKER. The Chair rules that the gentleman's point of order is not well taken. The Chair has no information that this bill is identical with the other bill.

In addition each House is the judge of its own actions in regard to decisions.

Mr. STEIN. Mr. Speaker, I do not know whether I am acting within my proper parliamentary practice, but I desire to appeal from the decision of the Chair.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will call the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Baldwin, to the Chair.

Mr. BALDWIN in the Chair.

The SPEAKER. The question is "Shall the ruling of the Chair stand as the decision of the House?"

On a viva voice vote the question was determined in the affirmative, and the ruling of the Chair was sustained.

The SPEAKER (Mr. AMBLER) in the Chair.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, the bill now before the House for its consideration is a revenue raising bill. It imposes a tax upon a class of persons within the Commonwealth best able, in my judgment, to meet the same. It is a tax small in amount, insofar as individual cases are concerned, yet in the aggregate will realize considerable revenue to this State. It is a tax of but two cents on the hundred dollars of value of stock in the transfer of the same, or agreements to sell and deliver, and does not apply to stock which is pledged for loans.

Now, Mr. Speaker, this House has had under consideration numerous revenue raising measures and we are confronted here in this Commonwealth with a serious condition unless some of these revenue raising measures meet with the approval of a majority of the members of this House. The expense of State government is increasing from time to time on account of various reasons. The demands made upon the revenues of the State are increasing from the standpoint of requests for charitable appropriations, as well as appropriations for good roads, and unless this House places itself in the position of supporting what is a reasonable revenue raising measure, such as this is.—a small sum of two cents on the value of one hundred dollars on each share of stock, then when our appropriation bills for charitable purposes, as well as those for good roads, which this House has passed, go before His Excellency, the Governor, he will be called upon to reduce the amounts of the appropriations, which this House as well as the Senate has voted, and it is only fair to our constituents, who are looking forward to that help from the State, to support a measure of this kind, when it is a measure which as applying to individuals in individual cases, the tax is slight, and yet, in the aggregate reaches a considerable revenue and only falls upon those who are best able to pay it, namely: those who deal in stocks, and I ask the support of the members of this House for this measure.

Mr. CROMER. Mr. Speaker, if a little more economy was used in the administration of government, if we were not constantly creating new positions and raising salaries, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania would not be casting about wildly for new things to tax. I want to say, gentlemen of the House, that I made a few promises prior to election, and while I have not been able to fight a good fight, I have kept the faith and I have stayed "put." I have carried out every obligation I made to the voters of the Fifth Allegheny District, and in addition to that I have looked after the interests of the tax payers of this Commonwealth to the best of my ability until I have been nicknamed here, in the back of the House, the "Watchdog of the Treasury." It does not make any difference what you say about what I do, or about what I say, but I am honest in my purpose and I believe this is the time when we should look toward retrenchment. I want to say to you, gentlemen of the House, that if private business was conducted with the same reckless abandon that we conduct State and National affairs, the sheriff would have every industrial enterprise in Pennsylvania within sixty days. Let us practice a little economy and defeat this bill.

Mr. STEIN. Mr. Speaker, in spite of what my colleague from Allegheny has said, I desire to call the attention of every gentleman in this House to the record of this bill, and therefore, although it may be for the reasons just urged, I would not vote against this bill. I ask the attention of you gentlemen to House Bill No. 1356, the bill introduced by my friend, Mr. Hess, from Lancaster, a bill precisely similar to the one now under consideration,—in fact, so alike that I challenge any gentleman in this House, including the gentleman from Philadelphia, to point out one single iota of difference, not even a syllable is different, not a single provision is different; the two bills are precisely alike; evidently framed by the same mind in both cases. This bill, No. 1756, was, after very careful consideration, twice defeated. It seems to me that although the House has seen fit to consider this bill No. 1772, it ought not to be passed after defeating a like bill last week.

Mr. CROMER. Mr. Speaker, I want to call the attention of the House to the attitude of my colleague from Allegheny, who sees fit to take a little slap at me every time that he gets on his feet on the floor of this House and I want to say to this House that I will leave my record, as I have made it in this House, to my constituents and let them compare it with the record of my colleague. Every time he gets on the floor he takes a slap at me, but for what reason I am unable to say.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I am under the impression that the question before the House is not to vote on the differences existing between the two gentlemen from Allegheny. I don't believe we will vote on that question. We will take up the question before us and vote on that afterwards. Mr. Speaker, we all realize that our revenues fell off last year in the State of Pennsylvania. We all realize that the people are asking for the improvement of our public roads; all of our charitable institutions are anxious to get all that we can spare for them, and certainly we cannot find any fault with the desires of those institutions and we wish to give them all we can justly give them, and here is a proposition that will raise us some money. If you were to open a broker's office in your town, the State puts a tax on that business. The Bourse of Philadelphia and the Stock Exchange of Pittsburgh, in those stock markets you can sell millions of stocks and not pay a cent of tax to the State. This tax will not be felt by the common people at all, and when I use the term "the common people" I don't mean in the sense that they are different from the every day man of business affairs and all the laboring men in our State; they will not feel this at all. Notwithstanding the fact that my friend from Pittsburgh asserts that a bill of a similar character as this has been defeated. That is not the question. Don't you think we should pass this bill and give the State some revenue There is no complaint from the people at all. Where can we go to get our revenue and satisfy the people and have no complaint when we go home if we don't get it here?

Mr. MEARKLE. Mr. Speaker, it occurs to me that there is one point in this proposition that has not been brought out fully and that the House does not thoroughly understand. About the time the European War was about to break out our financial institutions throughout the State of Pennsylvania and throughout the United States realized the existence of a serious financial situation. The stock brokers and the stock exchange in the cities of Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Chicago, New York, Boston, etc., voluntarily closed their office probably from three to six months for the benefit of the public at large. I repeat that they did it voluntarily. After a certain length of time when we felt that the country was in such financial condition that they could safely open their stock exchanges the Federal Government imposed a tax of two cents per hundred on the transfer of stock. A like proposition is before us tonight. Today all this stock that is transferred throughout the United States authorizes two cents government tax as a peace war tax, if there is a thing like that, to take care of our country to raise revenue for war purposes. Now we come along and we find it a pretty fair proposition and the State proposes to duplicate that proposition and put a four-cent tax on the transactions and thus add two cents to the two cents that is already being paid to the Government. I say that is double taxation; it is unfair to pay this tax which comes from the people at large. My friend from Delaware says the public are not complaining. I know the people in my district are complaining because it is double taxation, and I ask you to vote it down.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Mearkle, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MEARKLE. Mr. Speaker, yes sir.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman if it is not a fact that the State of New York imposes a similar tax from which a tremendous amount of revenue is derived?

Mr. MEARKLE. Mr. Speaker, I have nothing to do with the affairs of the State of New York; I know nothing about it. I am speaking on behalf of my constituents in the State of Pennsylvania.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I think I am correctly informed and it is a fact that the State of New York imposes a similar tax and the transactions in stock in Pennsylvania are small as compared with those on Wall Street, New York. Therefore, it seems to me that such transactions could well afford a tax in this State on the same basis as they are in the State of New York. We are told how much better they do things there and they do things better there because they secure revenue from sources which we leave untaxed. This is a small matter in Pennsylvania. Those who have railroad stock to sell ought to be able to pay two cents a hundred and it would not injure anybody. This State ought to have more revenue and therefore this revenue bill ought to pass.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Mr. WILDMAN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up House Bill No. 393, File Folio 4639, on page 2 of today's calendar, Bills on Final Passage Postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 393, entitled:

An Act relating to the powers duties and fees of coroners and their officers or assistants

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. WILDMAN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 393 passed on third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. GANS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WILDMAN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk then read the amendments as follows:

Amend section 4, line 27, strike out the words "Except in cases of murder."

Amend further by striking out all of lines 28 and 29.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to insert the amendments as read? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and the amendments will be made in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The SPEAKER. These amendments being to strike out, the bill can be considered at once.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this bill was defeated last week for the reason that the whole object of this bill is to raise the salary of the coroner, creating fees where he now earns nothing. The whole complaint of the authors of the bills is that their salary is not sufficient and in order to raise that, they have set out fees that would amount to an enormous sum in cases where they would make an investigation. In the first place it provides for a fee of five dollars and fifty cents on all occasions. Wherever an unscrupulous coroner would desire to make a view or an investigation, he would be entitled to a fee of five dollars and fifty cents, and wherever he would make an investigation he would be entitled to an additional fee of ten dollars. In cases where there would be an autopsy the entire amount would amount to something like seventy-five dollars. In our county there are some 7,700 deaths each year and if the average for each death would be ten dollars, it would amount to something like $77,000.00. It is true there is a salary in some of the counties, but in the other counties there is no salary provided and it would make an enormous sum for every coroner, and that is the whole object of the bill. If you will notice as the bill was originally written it made it the duty of every coroner to investigate every death, now it merely puts it in his power to investigate wherever he desires. It seems to me it is a mighty bad bill and it ought to be defeated again.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the Question,

Shall the bill finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. BUNGARD. Mr. Speaker, I call for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

YEAS—109.
